Jonathan C. Cooper, BSc (St And), PhD (Central Lancs), FRGS, FBS, is Senior Lecturer in Sustainable Technology and Geography at Harper Adams University. He previously wrote about Scotland in Volumes 10, 12, and 15 as well as in Medieval Clothing and Textiles, Volume 12.

Neil K. Dickson, BSc (St And), MSc, DPhil (Oxon), ACIE, FICB, FBS, lectured in Mathematics at the University of Glasgow for thirty-five years, was a member of the University's Academic Dress Committee for nineteen years and is the author of articles on the University's academic dress in Volumes 12 and 14. Retirement from the university has given him time to prepare and independently examine charity accounts, as well as pursue his interest in academic dress.

Michael W. Everett, BA (Olivet), MSc, PhD (Michigan State), FBS, is a professor of practice in the Department of Community Sustainability in the College of Agriculture and Natural Resources at Michigan State. He first became interested in academic dress at a young age, being selected as the commencement speaker for his sixth-grade graduation.

Burgon Society On-line Bibliography

The aim is to build up a comprehensive resource for those researching the design, history and practice of academical dress.

The Introduction is a brief survey of the key materials on academical dress that are either in print or available in the larger public and university libraries.

The Alphabetical list that follows is intended to cover what has been published on the subject since the beginning of the nineteenth century; earlier items are listed if they include engravings that provide important evidence of robes of the period.

The bibliography grows every year. Suggestions for additions (or corrections) are welcome. Please send e-mails to: webmaster@burgon.org.uk.

His previous article, in Volume 18, reported his research on faculty attitudes toward academic dress at Michigan State University.

Philip Goff, BD (London), AKC, FSA, FBS, is a founder and was the first Chairman of the Burgon Society. He has been associated with academical and ecclesiastical robe-making since he was a teenager and was Academic Consultant to Ede & Ravenscroft Ltd for ten years. More recently he was Area Dean of West Haringey and Vicar of St Augustine's Church, Highgate, London until retirement in 2015 and previously Senior Practice Counsellor at Clapham Family Practice. His previous article, in Volume 18, reviewed the academic and official dress of the University of the Arts London.

Valentina S. Grub, BA (Wellesley), MLitt, PhD (St And), FBS, is a scholar of medieval textiles specializing in English embroidery between 1200 and 1350. In October 2019 she was awarded Fellowship for her dissertation on academic dress in the Middle East and Maghreb.

Transactions Online Resource for Researchers

While the Burgon Society shares articles published in the Transactions on its web site, researchers unfamiliar with the journal can find its topics through targeted searches in scholarly databases.

Open access publishing makes the Transactions' articles available through New Prairie Press at no cost and with few restrictions. Digital object identifiers make authors' work easily discoverable in academic searches, with the result of researchers (and the curious) making more than 1,000 article downloads per month, on average, in the first seven months of 2020.

Our home page on the site features a map which shows where articles have been downloaded over the previous week and which articles they were. The site is also the online home to our house style sheet. It appears on the 'information for authors' page under 'Formatting Guidelines'.

New Prairie Press, hosted by Kansas State University, offers a home for the Trans-

The Transactions has been on the New Prairie Press site since October 2016.

London, and then embarked on a career in higher education administration. She is now Director and Senior Consultant in a higher education consultancy. Alice joined the Burgon Society in 2012 and was elected Fellow in 2017.

David C. Quay, BA (London), MCIL, FBS, is a retired teacher of Modern Languages, principally at University College School, Hampstead, London (1985–2004), and English as a Foreign Language. His fascination with the world of academic dress dates from the 1950s when he was a choirboy in an Anglican church; this interest continued into his teaching career where Commemoration/Speech Days are etched firmly in his memory.

Stephen L. Wolgast, BA (Kansas St), MS (Columbia), FBS, is a professor of the practice of journalism and the Knight Chair in Audience & Community Engagement at the University of Kansas. His previous article highlighted the return of the third crow's foot on Harvard's gown for honorary doctors. He has been editor of the Transactions since Volume 11.

Alexander Yen, BA (Hons) (Oxon), FBS, graduated in 2019 with a keen interest in academic dress which he cultivated while at University. His interests lie in expanding the study of academic dress to his native Hong Kong, and his contribution to this issue is the first of what he hopes to be a succession of efforts in that respect.

The shop offers our historical reprint series, a play, and copies of the Transactions.
