ACE Quarterly is the professional journal of the Agricultural Communicators in Education. "Agriculture" is taken broadly to include those communicating about such fields as home economics, youth and community development as well as agriculture. "Education" also is taken broadly. Besides Land-Grant Colleges and Universities and other institutions of higher learning, it includes state and federal agencies serving publics ranging from rural farmers to nutritionally starved urban children. The editors welcome articles reporting statistical research, theoretical considerations, or philosophical or historical concepts involved in communicating with the audiences of ACE members. Evaluations and tests by ACE members of their media methods also are welcome as are tips, reviews, and thoughtful editorial comments. ACE Quarterly is published each season of the year in Columbia, Missouri. The society's annual membership fee of $25 for the calendar year includes all issues of the Quarterly. For more information regarding membership write: ACE, 1-98 Agriculture Building, University of Missouri, Columbia, MO 65211.

Library subscriptions cost $25 annually. Single copies of back issues may be obtained for $5 each by writing the editors. Address all correspondence regarding ACE Quarterly to: Quarterly, 1-98 Agriculture Building, University of Missouri, Columbia, MO 65211. Or call 314-882-6744.

The ACE Quarterly staff requests submissions of art or photography for the publication cover. We want to improve the visual capacities of the quarterly as well as provide a forum for the good work done by ACE members.
