

Meet ACE Authors

W. M. BOST has served as director of the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service since 1962. Dr. Bost holds degrees from Mississippi State University, Cornell University and the University of Mississippi. He has served 22 years in the Extension Service and has twice been honored with the USDA Superior Service Award. Under his guidance, the Mississippi Extension Service developed the "1.5 by '75" program to raise the value of farm products in the state by 62 percent in a decade.

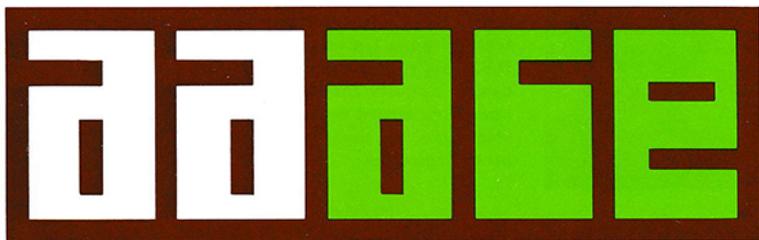

JACK BELCK is state extension specialist for publications in the West Virginia University Appalachian Center. Armed only with a B.S., lots of experience, and good references, he found upward career mobility limited. Told he needed another degree, he got one. Now armed only with an M.S., lots of experience, and good references, he finds career mobility limited. Told he needs another degree, he . . .

JAMES ALLEN CARTE is Publications Section Head at the West Virginia Geological and Economic Survey. He holds a B.S. in Technical Journalism at West Virginia University and is now doing thesis research in typography for the M.S.J. at WVU. He previously spent nine years with Raytheon Company, where he was Manager of Technical Writing and Editing. Carte recently had articles accepted by Technical Communication and the Journalism Educator.

GLEN W. GOSS, publications editor at Penn State, is serving as chairman of the Critique and Awards evaluation committee. A Board member from 1970-1972, he has been at Penn State since 1960. Previously he had worked in Rhode Island and Vermont, where he got his M.S. in Agricultural Economics and Rural Sociology in 1958.

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION OF AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE EDITORS

National Headquarters
West Virginia University
Morgantown, West Virginia 26506

Bulk Rate
U.S. POSTAGE
PAID
Morgantown, W.Va.
Permit No. 45